National CTE Letter of Intent
Signing Day

WHAT IS NATIONAL TECHNICAL LETTER OF INTENT SIGNING DAY?

- The event mirrors the NCAA's National Signing Day for athletes who commit to play sports in college. It is designed to honor students who are entering technical field and to celebrate strong technical careers.
- Students, by designated program, sign a letter of intent which reads, "I, the undersigned South Central College student, understand that with this Letter of Intent I am occupying one of the very limited training and education openings in this technical education program and my goal is to successfully complete this program. I understand I will be prepared to achieve technical certification for a high demand occupation and with completion of the industry- level curriculum, I will graduate workplace ready."
- Educators, families and friends will be in the audience to support the incoming students while members of business and industry stand behind students as they sign their letters of intent. It offers the business community a chance to meet their future workforce.
- This is the fourth year for this event nationally. This is South Central College's second year.

WHO ARE THE SIGNEES?

- All new Fall 2017 students should attend.
- Prior to the signing ceremony, incoming students gather to learn more about opportunities at South Central College.
