INDUSTRIAL WATERLESS HAND CLEANER with Natural Citrus Limonene & Volcanic Pumice

An amazing dextro-limonene natural citrus extract solvent combined with gentle emollients and conditioners to prevent drying, cracking and chapping. Plus soil suspending agents, emulsifiers and mild abrasive particles are used to produce "The Premium Quality Industrial Hand Cleaner". An essential product for mechanics, painters, machinists, industrial workers, printers, maintenance men, municipal employees, assembly line and construction workers. Ideal for removing dirt, heavy grease, ink, tar, paint, stains and many other soils.

New Handee offers the user many outstanding benefits:

- Cleaner hands because it immediately liquifies on contact and is completely rinsable for fast removal of soil and grease. Its Pumice ingredient is tough on stubborn soil, yet mild on the skin.
- Absolute safety because its natural citrus solvent and skin conditioners prevent dryness, chapping and dermatitis.
- Pleasant odor of oranges, yet not overpowering because it contains just the right amount of limonene
- Doesn't stain skin or clothing because of its unique formulation.
- Unequaled aesthetics because our product virtually will not "weep," or separate, as other waterless hand cleaners do when exposed to air for prolonged periods. This is a significant breakthrough.

One final point. Because of the growing popularity of citrus-based solvents, more and more hand cleaners containing limonene are appearing on the market. Don't be misled: Limonene will not make a poor product perform better; it will only make it smell like oranges. Also be wary of low-priced products which are scarcely more than cream hand cleaners with limonene trying to pass themselves off as waterless hand cleaners.

We know of no other industrial waterless hand cleaner that consistently delivers the same high-quality performance as economically as new Handee. Order some now and try it for yourself. You'll love it.
