COVID-19 Update: Confirmed Case: No on campus face-to-face classes

March 29, 2020

The COVID-19 Pandemic has created a fluid situation relative to how we are able to offer our classes. We have just learned that the state executive branch has made the determination that colleges and universities are not to offer any on campus face-to-face classes for at least the next two weeks. We are looking into what this means for Farm Business Management and the SCC Center for Business and Industry. We will provide you with updates in the coming days as more information becomes available.
