Effective Forklift Operator Safety Training Tailored To Your Industry

This training prepares an individual to understand the hazards involved in improper or unsafe forklift operation. Course fulfills the classroom forklift training requirements of OSHA 1910.178(l) as well as provides an onsite operator's performance evaluation required for complete certification. Our veteran forklift trainers are knowledgeable in general industry and construction applications as well as applicable ASME B56 standards. This 2-hour course is designed to satisfy all of the formal instruction requirements in OSHA 1910.178 for forklift operators. In addition to learning forklift safety principles, your trainer will review OSHA regulations and interpretations, and provide on-site performance evaluations for each operator.

CBI also holds a forklift Train the Trainer session each year.
